Homeplace Festival Offers More This Year

The annual Fall Heritage Festival at Homeplace on Green River will be Saturday, September 6, from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. CT. This year's Festival will feature both new activities and continuation of the most popular events from prior years. As always, the festival will be family oriented.

New activities this year include five miles of well-marked walking trails traversing the restored Blue Heron Wetlands, meandering streams, forest and prairie environments. Beaver, otter, deer and a number of other animals and birds may be seen along the trails. Also new this year will be miniature horses, and the quilt display will be back after a two-year absence.

Live music will be ongoing from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. Performing will be Voices of Praise, The Exie Bluegrass Boys, Gospel singer Sharon Payne, Neal Sneed and the Dream Depot Singers, and singer-songwriter Chris Anderson.

There is a $5 parking fee which includes one ticket each for up to three children under 12. The tickets are for the barrel train, hay and pony rides, and face painting. Additional tickets are $1. There is no charge for the petting zoo, games for the kids, walking trail, arts and crafts exhibitions and demonstrations, or with the exception of food purchases, for the many other activities at the

Citizens Argue Occupational Tax

CITY COUNCIL MOVES FORWARD WITH ORDINANCE

BY WES FEESE
EDITOR

The Columbia City Council met for its September meeting Tuesday, and heard several comments from citizens regarding the proposed one-percent occupational tax.

Steve Warren was the first to speak to the council, and offered some harsh criticisms of the new tax, focusing particularly on the fact that residents outside of Columbia will be paying a tax implemented by a board that they didn't elect.

"One of the biggest problems I have is that I voted for none of you," Warren told the council, citing one of America's founding principles that taxation without representation is inherently unfair. "As a citizen of the county, the responsibility of what happens in the city limits is not mine to take up."

He continued by explaining his problem with being taxed by officials he had no recourse against, and also noted that the majority of this tax burden would be paid by workers who don't make a good wage to begin with, which he said would further inhibit the community's economic growth. He went on to Steve Warren, right, was one of four citizens to speak to Mayor Mark Harris and the Columbia City Council Tuesday night about the proposed occupational tax. Warren was especially critical of the fact that as a county resident, he will be taxed by officials he didn't elect.

Emily Moore sustained minor injuries Tuesday when her Toyota Corolla slammed into a Ford Ranger on Campbellsville Road.

One Injured In Two-Vehicle Crash Tuesday

BY WES FEESE
EDITOR

A Taylor County woman was hurt Tuesday in a two-car collision on Campbellsville Road.

According to the Columbia Police Dept., Emily Moore was traveling north when she failed to see that a vehicle in front of her had come to a stop waiting for a left turn. With rain inhibiting her vision and the roads already slick, Moore's 2005 Toyota Corolla slammed into a 1992 Ford Ranger being driven

Revisit Knifley Saturday

BY WES FEESE
EDITOR

After more than a year of planning by a 14-member committee, Revisit Knifley will debut Saturday with a full day of events aimed at entertaining and educating the whole family.

Starting at 7 a.m. and continuing late into the evening, the public is invited to come out and enjoy the food, vendors, pageants, music, games, giveaways, and fireworks. A 5K walk/run will be held in the morning, and more than 40 vendors have already signed up to sell their wares.

"Our main goal is to provide a fun-filled day at a minimum

Columbia Girl Missing

BY BLAKE SPIRES
ASST. EDITOR

The Columbia Police Dept. is continuing an investigation into the disappearance of a juvenile female that has been missing since this past weekend. Chelsea Reynolds, 17, was last seen at her residence on Hindman Street around 7:15 Sunday evening. Reynolds' neighbors reported seeing her get into a gold or silver pickup truck, thought to be either a Chevrolet or Toyota driven by a white male.

Reynolds is white, with fair skin, blue eyes and long brown hair that is usually pulled up. She weighs approximately 120 pounds and was last seen wearing white pajama pants with gray and pink designs and a white t-shirt. The case is currently being

Thompson Gives Voters A Choice For PVA

BY BLAKE SPIRES
ASST. EDITOR

Primary elections typically signal an unofficial victory for those running unopposed, but despite only one name on the ballot in May, the office of Property Valuation Administrator, vacated early this year by the retirement of William Feese, Jr., and currently held by interim PVA Jeff Feese, will see a battle in November after all.

Brandon Thompson, 32, did not expect to run for PVA in 2014. Upon taking the requirement test for the position in November 2013, Thompson was merely looking to gain experience and familiarity with the test in order to pursue a run for the office in the future.

"I had actually planned to vote for [longtime county PVA] Junior [Feese] if he ran again," Thompson, a Cumberland County native and graduate of Lindsey Wilson College said in an interview Tuesday. "I took the test thinking I would run

Editorial Commentary
Written By
Wes Feese, EDITOR

I debated whether or not to talk about this again, since I discussed it last week and have already shared my opinion, but here I am, writing about the new occupational tax, which it appears is only a month away from being instituted. For some reason, this measure taken by the council and the debate it has sparked is fascinating to me.

While last week I gave my personal views, this week I’m asking for yours. Tuesday’s council meeting was the most interesting in my time covering the board, and the only reason for this was that, for once, there was honest-to-goodness discussion, debate, and participation from citizens. While there have been times when a person or two has taken time to voice an opinion in the citizens’ comments portion of meetings, Tuesday was the first time more than a couple of people spoke on an issue, and also the first time I’ve seen any disagreement among citizens. I hope even more people show up next week, both so they can see the Revenue Committee’s presentation and hopefully gain a better understanding of the tax, but also to give their own opinions, whether they’re for or against the tax.

It’s baffling to me that so few citizens participate in local government meetings, because these decisions our governing bodies make have direct implications on our entire community. I know people don’t agree on everything, but Tuesday was apparently the first time in three years that people have cared enough to voice their disagreements. That’s how democratic governments are supposed to work. I sometimes hear complaints from people that various local boards are rubber stamps that agree on everything and go along just to keep from rocking the boat, but this criticism is unfair if people don’t let their views be known.

I personally disagree with some of the comments I heard, particularly that other options be explored, because I’ve heard the other options discussed, and I don’t think they’re viable, but I appreciate the points that were made, most of which were valid. Steven Warren was right when he said that he’s going to be taxed by people he didn’t elect and can’t vote out of office. Kerry Robertson was right that we shouldn’t have an occupational tax just because other towns have one. That doesn’t mean we shouldn’t have the tax, necessarily, but these points should be considered, and if they hadn’t brought their views to the council, they would never be discussed. That wouldn’t be the council’s fault though; it would be the community that was at fault, for not letting their opinions be known.

Next week, I expect to see an even larger crowd at the hearing on the tax, and hope to hear even more debate and disagreement. Maybe a compromise will be reached, such as limiting the new tax to a five or ten-year period, for example. Maybe it will pass as is, despite differing opinions. Maybe there are more people in favor of the tax, but have yet to speak up because they assume it will pass anyway. Either way, if this is something you care about (and if you work or live in Columbia, you should care), you should attend the meeting. If people don’t show up though, I don’t think they have much of a right to complain, whether or not the tax passes.

Old Fish
Tales

The following bits and pieces on fish and fishermen were gathered for a hard-winter-day’s reading, “dynamited, seined and dip-netted” from the files of the Adair County News.

Mr. Waller Morrison, a few mornings ago, was walking down the creek on ice and he noticed quite a lot of nice fish. He was the recipient of 38 only, and they averaged 14 inches. 17 January 1900, Gradyville letter

Mason McCaffree and Philip Sherrill caught sixty suckers in a little while one day last week. A hole was cut in the ice and one drove while the other hooked. 7 February 1900

Hindman Brothers and R.L. Caldwell made a trip down Big Creek one morning last week on the ice and only caught 140. Mr. C. says that is a better way of fishing than seining in Metcalfe County. 7 February 1900, Gradyville letter

Parties who live on the river state that hundreds of very fine fish were caught this season as they came out of Mr. I.C. Harmon’s spring. 11 April 1900. We understand that Mr. I.C. Harmon has caught a great man[y] nice fish out of his spring this season. The spring is on the bank of Green River and during the winter fish enter, coming out in the spring. Hundreds are frequently caught in a night. 17 April 1901

Some of the boys had good sport fishing last week. Mr. T.C. Davidson caught a ‘cat’ weighing five pounds. 25 April 1900

Mr. R.H. Price caught a cat fish last Friday night which measured 2 1/2 feet in length and weighed 12 pounds. This is the largest fish that has been caught near town this season. It is believed by fishermen that Russell’s Creek is well supplied with bass, and much good sport is anticipated. 2 May 1900

Mr. J.B. Barbee went fishing with his gun last Monday afternoon, and had the luck to kill a carp which weighed 10 1/2 pounds. 16 May 1900

Lee Baker, of color, has the honor of catching the largest bass of the season up to this date. It was 21 inches long and weighed 4 1/2 pounds. 16 May 1900

Phil Sherrill had on exhibition last Saturday a catfish weighing 10 1/4 lbs. It was caught in Russell Creek near the mouth of Pettit’s Fork. 23 May 1900

FROM THE DESK OF

ATTORNEY GENERAL JACK CONWAY

As your Attorney General, I am committed to fighting for Kentucky families and keeping the big banks honest. That’s why I was proud to join the U.S. Department of Justice last month in announcing a nearly $17 billion settlement with Bank of America ñ a settlement that’s returning $23 million to our state pension system.

During the run-up to the 2008 financial crisis, Kentucky Retirement Systems (KRS) lost $21.7 million when it unknowingly bought high-risk residential mortgage-backed securities (RMBS) from Bank of America and its Countrywide Financial Corporation and Merrill Lynch subsidiaries. Public pension funds across the country invested in these products. However, what the pension systems didn’t know is that many of the loans comprising the mortgage-backed securities were subprime, meaning they were underwritten by the bank even though the borrowers were likely to default.

The house of cards came crashing down when the demand for the RMBS products caused the banks to write more risky loans and package them. The housing market bottomed out, foreclosures spiked, and the income stream from the mortgages vanished.

As a result of the settlement, Bank of America admits to selling billions of dollars of mortgage-backed securities without disclosing to investors that the securitized loans weren’t safe. Simply put, the bank and its subsidiaries defrauded investors, including our pension system, when it sold these high-risk products.

In addition to the $23 million we have recovered for KRS, the agreement requires Bank of America to provide $7 billion to assist consumers across the country who have been hurt by the housing collapse and the recession. Kentucky will share a significant portion of this money, which will be used to create affordable rental housing, provide loans to credit-worthy borrowers, and help communities still recovering from the financial crisis.

Kentucky was one of only six states to participate in the recent $16.65 billion settlement with Bank of America. It is the largest civil settlement with a single business ever in American history, and my office worked hard to make it happen.

For more information about the settlement and how consumers may benefit, Bank of America has set up a hotline

Last Thursday Bartlett Hood and others, composing a crowd of five or six, killed with gigs in Russell Creek, seven German Carp that weighed 65 pounds. There are large fish in Russell Creek but it takes fishermen to get them. 27 February 1901

Alvin Murray, with John Burbridge...were successful fishers last Saturday. They killed five large fish. The heaviest weighed 13 1/2 pounds... 6 March 1901

Mr. William Orr, a good farmer living on Russell Creek, caught two fish out of Russell Creek that weighed ten pounds each and measured three feet in length. Mr. Orr says they were of a peculiar kind, no one was able to give them a name. The meat was of a good quality. 3 April 1901

It is said by fishermen that the great majority of fish in Russell Creek, between the two mills, are carp. A great many two and three feet long have been caught this spring. Several have been seen that will weigh, it is believed, fifty and sixty pounds. 15 May 1901

Mr. W.B. Henderson was in our town a few days ago and informed us of the successful fishing that R.L. and J.H. Caldwell and himself had a few days ago in Russell Creek, near Portland. The fish were killed by a gig and seen through the ice. Something over one hundred fish averaging from one to two feet in length were killed. 28 February 1912, Gradyville letter

Bill Combest caught a cat fish that weighed 10 1/4 pounds. 12 June 1901, Dunnville letter

Geo. W. Robertson, Lem Smythe, Fred Robertson, J.T. Barbee, Sr., Jerome Hurt and Paul Smythe comprised a very successful fishing party last week. They left Columbia on Wednesday for Green River and in two nights they caught, with trot lines, eighty-one fine fish, all cat but seven. The entire lot weighed 165 pounds. Quite a number of the catfish were brought to town and disposed of to different parties. This is not only successful fishing, but the party had a jolly good time as well. 12 June 1901

J.V. White, S.D. Barbee, Sr., J.C. Strange and Will Jones returned from Green River Saturday morning. They caught fifty-four cat fish, one of the number weighing about sixteen pounds, gars by the dozen and quite a number of turtles. They used a trot-line. Entire lot weighed 172. 19 June 1901

C.S. Bell, G.H. Nell and Dr. L.C. Nell were fishing on Big Creek last week, catching 50 lbs of nice fish. Geo. Henry says anybody can catch fish that understands slight of hand. 26 June 1901

There have been more fish caught and killed in Green River this season than in any year previous. It is common for a fishing party to catch in one night from one hundred to one hundred and fifty pounds. A large majority of the fish are cat, many of them very large. Rufe Jones has turned his attention to shooting perch, and in the last few weeks he has sent quite a number to Columbia. He waits to get a bead on large ones, from twenty to twenty-two inches in length. 26 June 1901

N.S. Mercer and J.E. Johnston, while fishing in Green River last Friday night, captured a jack fish which weighed 23 lbs, with several other small fish. 30 October 1901

I know that our ongoing efforts to help the people and the communities negatively impacted by the actions of some of the largest banks are making a difference. In 2012, my office joined with 48 other state attorneys general to negotiate the historic national mortgage foreclosure settlement, which secured $25 billion for consumers who’d been wrongfully foreclosed on by one of the nation’s five largest banks.

Kentucky’s share of the settlement totaled nearly $64 million. With that money, we’ve invested in projects that have created affordable housing for Kentuckians, helped prevent foreclosures, and assisted communities across the Commonwealth that were left holding the bag to take care of vacant and abandoned properties. Approximately 1,833 Kentucky homeowners have received an average of $34,771 in relief from the banks.

Since that time, we’ve also held accountable Ocwen Financial Corporation and SunTrust Mortgage for past mortgage servicing and foreclosure abuses, ensuring that the companies treat borrowers fairly and provide troubled borrowers with relief.

I’m proud that our efforts are benefiting communities and families in Kentucky that have been touched by the foreclosure crisis. As Attorney General, I will always stand up for the hard-working people of Kentucky and hold responsible big banks and corporations that try to profit at the expense of Kentucky families.

•Occupational Tax

reference the new hospital tax, which he expected to continue to grow, and lamented that taxes are often raised, but rarely lowered or eliminated, even when the financial need has been lifted.

“I would ask you to keep this discussion open for a good amount of time,” Warren said in closing.

The lone comment of support came from Roy Rademacher, who praised the council for moving forward with a potentially-unpopular-but-in-his-eyes-necessary tax, despite the upcoming election for mayor and council seats.

“You guys have a lot of nerve bringing this up before an election,” Rademacher said. “That’s pretty brave.”

Kerry Robertson disagreed.

“I think it’s pretty safe actually,” Robertson countered, noting that the majority of workers that would pay the new tax aren’t city residents.

Robertson asked what other options were considered, and warned against enacting the tax just because other towns have it.

“I teach English, and one of the things we talk about are fallacies,” Robertson said. “Doing something because everyone else does it is a fallacy.”

She also reiterated Warren’s sentiment that the people affected by the tax are not the people that can vote for the council.

Councilor Craig Dean, whom it was noted works in Campbellsville and pays their occupational tax, said that despite not being able to vote for the city’s representatives, workers in the city that live in the county will still benefit from the tax.

“They are coming into the city, and they are taking advantage of our services,” Dean said.

“People are going to fuss because we’re raising the taxes,” Councilor Ronald Rogers said. “But you know, dogs don’t bark at parked cars—we have to have funds to run the community.”

The last citizen comment on the matter came from David Wells, who didn’t speak in outright opposition to the tax, but worried that the ordinance would be passed before citizens had a chance to read the full document and understand all the nuances and limitations of it.

City Attorney Marshall Loy assured Wells that the ordinance would be available to citizens before the second reading, after which the council will vote whether or not to enact the tax. Loy then gave first reading of the ordinance, which didn’t require a vote.

A public hearing is scheduled for next Monday at 6 p.m. at City Hall, at which time the Revenue Committee will present its findings to the audience, explain its recommendation of the tax, and hear more citizens comments on the matter.

In other business Tuesday:

- The council agreed to Shannon Rowe’s request that a curfew be established at the Fairgrounds to help curb the growing vandalism problem on the grounds. Rowe asked that the curfew be established from 10 p.m. until daylight, with the only exceptions being public events, such as the fair, and rentals of the grounds.
- “I think that’s a good idea,” Rogers said, who went on to make a motion to enact the curfew. Dean seconded, and the motion passed unanimously. The move only set policy however, and will have to be put into an ordinance before the curfew can officially be enforced.
- The Council heard an announcement from Rogers that Columbia has been awarded a grant to build sidewalks. Rogers, Mayor Mark Harris, and Lindsey Wilson CFO Mark Coleman worked together to obtain the grant, and the money will be used to provide safer walking routes for Lindsey students and residents around the college.
- The mayor and council asked the community to continue its prayers for local firefighter, paramedic, and former councilman Tony Grider, who continues his recovery from a severe electrical shock in Campbellsville last week, while assisting Campbellsville University students in the ALS Ice Bucket Challenge.

All council members were present for the meeting.

•Accident

by Micah Abbott of Adair County.

“I’d say the wet road was the cause of it,” CPD Ofc. Jamie Cole says. “It was at least one of the main factors—it was pretty slick.”

Moore was treated on the scene by Adair County EMS and transported to Westlake Regional Hospital for treatment of minor injuries. Abbott was uninjured in the collision.

“I think she hurt her arm a little bit,” Cole says. “I don’t believe it was anything too serious, but she was complaining of arm pain.”

Cole is continuing the investigation.

Obituaries

Jeffrey Ray Doss

Jeffrey Ray Doss, 56, beloved husband of Katherine Leigh, passed away August 17, 2014 in Lexington, KY.

Jeff was born on January 22, 1958 in Campbellsville, KY to the late Ray and Lois Doss.

He is survived by his wife and his two brothers, Steve and Mark, as well as his niece, Emily Doss, and nephews Brian Doss, Britton Doss, and Mark Hyland.

Jeff graduated from Tates Creek High School and earned an Associate Degree of Architecture from Lexington Technical Institute. His passion for order and arrangement led him to become an excellent warehouse manager and he worked for Bluegrass Cigar Company for the better part of three decades, as well as for Proficient Transport LLC, and JPP Stables, LLC.

Jeff was a gifted musician on multiple instruments who played in local bands, and was also a composer and arranger. He was involved in multiple recordings of his own works and helped other musicians with theirs. As a teenager and young adult, Jeff loved skateboarding, and spent much of his time in knee pads and helmet, traveling with his brother and countless friends to ride skate parks, private ramps and pools. The culture of skateboarding stayed with him even after he no longer skated very often.

While Jeff primarily enjoyed non-fiction reading, he made an exception for the stories and novels of P.G. Wodehouse, which he knew like the back of his hand, and could quote at will. He loved documentaries and had an encyclopedic knowledge of history.

Jeff's love for animals caused him and Kathy to adopt many cats over the years and to support charities for the benefit of animals.

A visitation was held from 6-7 pm followed by a memorial service at 7 pm, on Friday August 29, at Kerr Brothers Funeral Home at 463 East Main Street in Lexington.

In lieu of flowers, please feel free to contribute in Jeff's name to the Lexington Humane Society (<http://lexingtonhumanesociety.org/>), the Central KY No-Kill Animal Shelter (<https://www.nokillcentralky.ckyrhs.org/>), or to the charity of your choice.

You will be missed Jeff, more than words can ever say, by everyone who knew you – you truly had no enemies.

Feese, however, retired in January of this year, on the day of the deadline to file for the office. Because of the timing, only his son, Jeff, had time to file for candidacy. When news of the vacated office spread throughout the community, Thompson said he was bombarded with requests to run.

“I received tons of texts and calls, and people would stop me when I was out and ask me to run,” he explained.

But a decision to run was not so simple. Thompson and his wife, Tiffany, are expecting their first child, a baby girl named Anne Elise, in November—just days after the election. Thompson also knew that a write-in candidacy was far more difficult than being on the ballot.

“Tiffany has really encouraged me to do it,” Thompson said of his wife’s support. “We’ve talked about it and prayed about it, and it felt like the right time to go ahead and run.”

“I think the voters deserve a choice,” he continued. “That’s why I’m running. I think the voting process is an important one, and the tax payers deserve a choice.”

So at the urging of members of the community and with the support of his family, Thompson finalized his decision to run, knowing the road that lay ahead.

“It’s definitely a learning curve. Your first campaign is not an easy task to undertake, and being a write-in presents a special set of circumstances,” he admitted.

Thompson embarked on the lengthy process, talking with people of both parties from various counties who have held PVA offices, those who have run for public office as write-in candidates, and the people of Adair County in order to lay the groundwork for his campaign.

“I didn’t want to run just to run,” he said. “I want to get out to events, meet people, everything. There’s a lot of work to be done. People think we live in a small town, but when you’re trying to talk to everyone, there’s a lot to it.”

Despite lacking experience in the office, Thompson says his business experience and that as Chamber of Commerce President will help him in the position, should he win in November.

“I have a track record of taking a new position and looking at things differently and objectively,” he said. “Cutting expenses, increasing tax flow—my business experience will definitely play a part if I’m elected.”

Thompson’s vision if elected is also a clear one. He says he plans to keep the current staff, regardless of political party or who they may have worked for previously, educate the public to avoid citizens paying more taxes than necessary, and to make strides towards making the office more accessible and useful to the people of Adair County, which has served as his home for 14 years.

“I want people to be aware of exemptions they deserve, to make sure property is evaluated properly, and to put more information online,” he said.

That online information, which includes a hopeful partnership between Thompson’s potential PVA office and both the County Clerk and Sheriff’s offices, would feature the ability to pay property taxes online as well as to view the office checkbook so citizens can see how their tax money is being spent.

That message of public service rings true throughout Thompson’s plan and goals.

“I want to be a taxpayer watch dog. When new taxes are proposed, I want people to know what’s going on, to hear their concerns, to know if people are for or against it and make sure they have a voice,” he said. “It shouldn’t just be done with no oversight whatsoever.”

“I’m not doing this looking for a job, necessarily,” Thompson concluded. “I wouldn’t serve more than two terms, max—I’m just not into career politics. I want to serve the citizens of the county, and win or lose, I feel like I did a service to give people the option to choose.”

Conservation District accepting Kentucky Soil Erosion and Water Quality Cost Share Applications

The Adair County Conservation District is now accepting Kentucky Soil Erosion and Water Quality Cost Share Applications on a continuous basis. This continual sign-up is designed to make the program more landowner friendly and help address the needs of a landowner at any time during the year. As landowners plan conservation projects with the assistance of their local conservation district, they will be able to apply for financial assistance for those projects without having to wait for a designated sign up period.

Thousands of Kentucky landowners have received state level assistance through the Kentucky Soil Erosion and Water Quality cost Share program. Known informally as state cost share, the program was created in 1994 and helps landowners implement best management practices to protect soil and water resources on their property. Since the program's inception more than 131 million dollars has been approved for use in implementing best management practices through more than 15,000 submitted applications. This money has assisted landowners in all of Kentucky's 120 counties.

Many state cost share practices are offered through the state cost share program. Some examples are: agriculture and animal waste control facilities, streambank stabilization, animal waste utilization, vegetative filter strips, integrated crop management, pesticide containment, sinkhole protection, pasture and hay land forage quality improvement and heavy use area protection. A list of all practices is available at <http://conservation.ky.gov/Pages/StateCosShare.aspx>.

The Kentucky Soil and Water Quality Cost Share program is funded through the Tobacco Settlement Fund and the Kentucky Department of Agriculture. For the 2014 program year, $6 million dollars will be available to landowners across the state.

For more information on the Kentucky Soil Erosion and Water Quality Cost Share program, visit the Adair County Conservation District Office located at 965 Campbellsville Rd. You may also call the district at 270-384-6628.

“She’s done this a couple times in the past, but she usually comes back quicker,” Columbia Police Chief Jason Cross says.

Even so, Columbia PD is actively searching for Reynolds’ whereabouts in order to ensure her safety.

“I’ve assigned Sergeant [Tracy] McCarol to it. He’s pulling video and checking with neighbors to see if anything may have been different about that day,” Cross explains. “A lot of times people remember things later, so we’re also checking with family to see if she told anyone where she was going.”

As with many missing persons cases, the eyes of the public are a valuable resource, and Cross urges residents to be on the lookout.

“If she’s talked to anybody, or anyone has seen a vehicle matching that description in the area, call us or any other law enforcement agency,” Cross says. “Just let us know anything you know. Hopefully she’ll turn up soon.”

Improving Pastures

If your pastures are not as productive as they once were, maybe it’s time to provide a little TLC to get more animal carrying capacity out of your land. The best place to start is with a soil test. A soil test will provide you with the nutrient levels of the soil phosphorous, potassium, magnesium, calcium, zinc, and the soil pH. Applying nutrients according to a soil test on an annual basis is just one component needed to ensure longevity and productivity from your pastures.

Desirable forages for pastures in south central Kentucky include orchardgrass, tall fescue, and red or white clovers. Orchardgrass and tall fescue are both cool-season grasses that are most productive from September through June. Red or white clovers provide nitrogen fixation and help make up for the loss in production of cool-season grasses during the months of July and August. Familiarize yourself with these forage species. If they are not prevalent in your pastures, it may be time to re-seed. Cool-season grasses and clovers can be seeded now or mid-February through March.

Reseeding forages in pastures can be a difficult task. The key to a successful seeding is good soil to seed contact at a planting depth of    to    inch. A no-till drill is by far the best tool for seeding pastures, just be careful that seeds are not being planted too deep. Prior to seeding with a no-till drill, the existing vegetation should be grazed very closely (2 inches or less) to stunt the growth of competing plants or spray with a non-selective and non-residual herbicide such as glyphosate.

Seeding can also be done by disking the soil and using cyclone-type seeders, cultipacker seeders, or fertilizer spreaders to distribute the seed. Each method can be successful when seed is properly distributed and placed uniformly just below the soil surface (1/4 to 1/2 inch) and when the soil is firmed to give good seed-soil contact. Remember, though, if the seed is placed too deeply, it may not emerge. If the seed is placed at unequal depths, the stand will be uneven because of different emergence times.

Clovers may also be frost seeded into existing grass stands in February. The freezing and thawing of the soil will allow the small seeds to make good soil to seed contact. This practice does not work very well with grass.

Good management after the seeding is just as important. Do not allow livestock to graze newly seeded grass until it reaches a height of at least 6-8 inches. Animals should not be allowed to graze the grass below a height of 3-4 inches. Avoid grazing in wet or muddy conditions as hoof action may injury the young stand.

If you are establishing clovers in existing grass in February, it is necessary to allow animals to keep the existing grass grazed closely until the clover emerges a develops it first set of leaves. This allows clover to capture sunlight and prevents the existing grass from smothering out the newly seeded clover.

Parent Night at ACHS College and Career Awareness

Adair County High School invites all parents and seniors to join us in the library on Monday evening Sept. 15, at 6 p.m. for the first Parent Night of 2014.

An overview of the college application process and financial aid questions will be answered by Ms. Audrey Fowler from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority. Fowler will also discuss and answer question you may have about other topics related to higher education.

Don't miss this important opportunity to ask questions as your child begins the transition from high school to college and adulthood.

A light meal will be provided. Please R.S.V.P. by Friday, Sept. 12, by registering at <http://tinyurl.com/o3hbve6>. You may also contact the ACHS counselors' office at 270-384-6515 so that we may plan accordingly.

LWC Republicans Visit With Senator McConnell

Members of the Lindsey Wilson College chapter of the College Republicans visited Thursday afternoon with U.S. Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell. McConnell, who is running for a sixth term, made campaign stop at the college's Thomas D. Clark Reading Room of the Holloway Building where he spoke to members of the LWC College Republicans chapter and other guests from the area.

Ralph Stanley & The Clinch Mountain Boys Open The 2014-2015 Center Stage LIVE! Performing Arts Season On Sept. 19 At The Center For Rural Development

Legendary bluegrass artist Ralph Stanley & the Clinch Mountain Boys open the 2014-2015 Center Stage LIVE! performing arts season on Friday, Sept. 19, at 7:30 p.m. at The Center for Rural Development in Somerset.

The concert performance is one of five new shows presented by Lake Cumberland Performing Arts in partnership with The Center. This season's theme is "A World of Entertainment," featuring some of the best performers in bluegrass and rhythm and blues, award-winning acrobatics, and dramatic productions.

"We are excited to welcome back Ralph Stanley & the Clinch Mountain Boys to Center Stage for another great concert performance," said Dianna Winstead, associate director of arts, culture, and events at The Center. "Dr. Stanley is an American treasure and an international icon known worldwide for his traditional bluegrass music and classic hits."

Other Center Stage LIVE! performances include the Golden Dragon Acrobats, recognized throughout the United States and abroad as the premier Chinese acrobatic touring company of today, Tuesday, Oct. 21; "A Christmas Carol," based on Charles Jones' adaptation of the holiday classic, Thursday, Dec. 4; rhythm and blues and soul performer Percy Sledge, best known for his signature song, "When a Man Loves a Woman," Friday, Feb. 27; and Montana Repertory Theatre's "The Great Gatsby," a dramatic production of F. Scott Fitzgerald's classic novel, Tuesday, March 31.

Legendary bluegrass artist Ralph Stanley & the Clinch Mountain Boys open the 2014-2015 Center Stage LIVE! performing arts season on Friday, Sept. 19, at 7:30 p.m. at The Center for Rural Development in Somerset. Center Stage LIVE! is presented by Lake Cumberland Performing Arts in partnership with The Center. Individual show tickets are now on sale for Ralph Stanley & the Clinch Mountain Boys and other Center Stage performances. Call The Center's Box Office at 606-677-6000 or order tickets online at www.centertech.com.

"This year, The Center for Rural Development was selected as a top performing arts site in Kentucky by readers of Kentucky Living magazine," said Elizabeth Burton, spokesperson for The Center. "This designation is a reflection of The Center's state-of-the-art facility and high-caliber shows. We offer some of the most affordable ticket prices for the same shows offered at larger venues. We believe that strong cultural and performing arts programming helps to create vibrant communities for residents and non-residents alike."

All Center Stage LIVE! performances begin at 7:30 p.m. and are held in the theatre at The Center for Rural Development, located at 2292 South U.S. 27 (at Traffic Light 15) in Somerset.

Individual show tickets are now on sale for all five Center Stage performances and may be purchased at The Center's Box Office at 606-677-6000 or online at www.centertech.com. Season packages are still available. A five-show season package sells for $115 per person or purchase a season package of any three shows for $70 per person.

The Kentucky Arts Council, the state arts agency, provides operating support to Lake Cumberland Performing Arts with state tax dollars and federal funding from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Established in 1996 through the vision of U.S. Congressman Harold "Hal" Rogers, (KY-05), and other leaders, The Center for Rural Development is a nonprofit organization fueled by a mission to provide leadership that stimulates innovative and sustainable economic development solutions and a better way of life in Southern and Eastern Kentucky. In its 45-county primary service region, The Center provides innovative programs in leadership, public safety, technology, and arts and culture. The Center is committed to constantly expanding its capabilities in order to deliver a range of key services throughout Kentucky and the nation.

The Columbia-Adair County Parks and Recreation Board held its annual Wacky Quacky Duck Race fundraiser Monday at Butler Branch, and this year's proceeds topped $350. Pictured are Bobby Bowe, left, and Billy Coffey dumping the ducks into the creek. This year's first prize winner was Joey Caldwell, who took home $200.

The turnout for Buy, Swap, Sell, and Trade Day on the Public Square was light Monday, but Judith Guthrie says she still did a fair amount of business selling jewelry and sunglasses.

Angel and Kelsey, February 2014

Angel, Matthew and Kelsey

"The nursing staff was so helpful!"

When Angel Jenkins was deciding where to have her baby, there wasn't any question she was going to choose Lake Cumberland Regional Hospital. In fact, she chose LCRH twice.

As a physician's assistant, Angel is keenly aware of special little things – both from a personal and a medical standpoint - that enhance the experience of having a baby.

That's why LCRH offers private rooms and has a great team dedicated to helping mom and baby get acclimated to their new world. Babies get off to a great start with Kangaroo Care, skin-to-skin cuddling with mom immediately after birth. This helps regulate baby's heart and respiratory rate, blood sugar and temperature. It also stimulates breast milk-making hormones for mom and encourages the baby to begin breastfeeding.

That was important to Angel. She knew that mother's milk provides essential nutrients and antibodies to help get her babies off to the healthiest start. Her two daughters, three-year-old Mattie and six-month-old Kelsey, are living proof of that.

With 16 nurses who are certified lactation counselors (CLC) and two more who have the international board certification (IBCLC), there is plenty of in-hospital breastfeeding support for new moms. And, the counselors are just a phone call away if support is needed after going home.

"The nursing staff was so helpful!" she said. They helped Angel and her babies experience healthier starts – both times.

THE BREAKDOWN

with Blake Spires, Asst. Editor

Those of you who read this column every week (hi, mom) know that I'm an Indianapolis Colts fan. Since they drafted my favorite non-Wildcat college player at the time, gold teeth adorning Edgerrin James, I have pledged my NFL allegiance to the Colts.

Two years before that, then 37-year-old Jim Irsay fought a legal battle against his stepmother to assume ownership of the Colts, which his father had purchased as the Baltimore Colts in 1971. Since winning that battle, Irsay has had full control of the franchise, even as the league trends toward shared ownership.

On March 16 of this year, Irsay was pulled over near his Indianapolis suburb after police noticed him driving erratically. According to police reports, officers had to "continuously support Irsay to prevent him from falling over," and he was discovered to have the painkillers oxycodone and hydrocodone in his system. Additionally, Irsay had various prescription drugs and more than $29,000 in cash in his vehicle.

Tuesday morning in a Hamilton County, Ind. courtroom, Jim Irsay pleaded guilty to one misdemeanor count of operating a vehicle while intoxicated. His license will be suspended for one year, and he is placed on probation for one year as well, during which time he will be drug tested.

That's it. That's his legal punishment. I had friends in high school who were punished more severely for having cigarettes in their glove box. Driving under the influence, various pills, and $29,000 cash is a misdemeanor. I'm not a police officer, but in some places, folks who aren't rich and powerful and who have been caught in lesser situations have heard that behavior called 'trafficking' or might be questioned about why they'd need that much money or that many pills—or both...at the same time...at midnight.

Documents obtained by various media following his arrest in March show that Irsay has a history of prescription drug abuse, and that he was stopped as far back as 1979 for driving while intoxicated. He was later found not guilty, but a drug arrest as far back as college and an apparently documented problem with substance abuse brings to mind another high profile NFL name.

Josh Gordon was publicly disciplined twice for marijuana during his college career at Baylor, with the second time carrying an indefinite suspension that ultimately led to Gordon's transfer from the school. He sat out the 2011 season at Utah after transferring too late to be eligible before being taken in the 2012 supplemental draft by the Cleveland Browns.

Gordon has since publicly tested positive three times for various substances, including codeine and marijuana, which resulted in a yearlong suspension recently upheld despite an appeal from Gordon and the NFL Players Association.

Let's be clear: Josh Gordon needs professional help and a strong support structure in place to help him salvage his career. A misstep in his year away from football could ultimately bring a lifetime ban from the NFL, and at just 23-years-old, the All-Pro wide out could have more than just his career on the line.

The NFL is yet to rule on any punishment in place for Jim Irsay. Despite being arrested in March and initially charged with multiple felonies, no punishment has been handed down. Gordon, who was busted in July, has already had his suspension appeal denied. Commissioner Roger Goodell has said that anyone involved with the league is subject to discipline for misconduct, but, at least for now, the timeline with which punishment is determined skews heavily in favor of Irsay.

To me, the standard has been set. While this may be Irsay's first offense in the eyes of the league, his history of abuse is as checkered and much longer than Gordon's. Gordon, on one hand, is arguably the game's most dynamic receiver, and who plays for a team unlikely to make the playoffs. Irsay, on the other, is the longtime and lone owner of one of the league's most successful franchises in recent memory. Irsay is in a much more important position, and the punishment handed down from the NFL must reflect that.

Anything less than a full year suspension is a complete failure from Goodell. While Irsay's fate may be known by the time this column is printed, I want to be on record that, even as a Colts fan, the Commissioner is a spineless hypocrite if he fails to punish an owner after years of adopting an iron-fisted rule with regards to players.

The hilarious façade of justice adopted by our legal system in cases like this, where power and influence and money can buy technicalities and plea deals and probations, would be nothing compared to the decaying of Goodell if he is lenient on Irsay.

Former offensive lineman Eric Winston recently told NFL reporter and analyst Peter King of Monday Morning Quarterback that, "Owners should be held to the highest of standards. And I can tell you, players are watching. A lot of players are watching. This has been on players' minds for quite awhile."

Of course, in a league like the NFL where power is consolidated into the hands of a dominant commissioner, Goodell could, in theory, still continue his hardline stance on player misconduct if he fails to adequately punish Irsay. In the minds of his players, the media, and the public however, such a mistake would expose a clear dichotomy between those in power and those being ruled. With those on the field generating the revenue, that's not a risk Goodell or the NFL can be willing to take.

Indians Open 2014 With Record Performance: INDIANS 74 CAVERNA 28

BY BLAKE SPIRES
ASST. EDITOR

Another season of Indian Football kicked off Friday night at ACHS Booster Field, as the Tribe played host to longtime early-season foe Caverna. After a quick strike from the visitors, Adair regained control of the contest and utilized an offensive onslaught to record the 74-28 win to begin the 2014 campaign. The 74 points were the most scored by Adair County in the history of the program, topping the previous mark, 64, from the late 1980s.

"I thought we settled in well," Head Coach Gay says. "We were probably a little amped up in the beginning and had lots of new faces out there, but we played with great effort."

The Colonels, who had opened their season the week before with a victory, were already up to game speed, returning the opening kickoff down the Adair sideline for a touchdown. The two-point conversion was good, and just 16 seconds in the Indians trailed 8-0.

The nightmare start for Adair continued as the ensuing squib kick from the Colonels was bobbled and recovered by the kicking team in Adair territory. The Indian defense would hold, however, forcing a fourth and seven from midfield that resulted in the snap flying over the head of Caverna quarterback Anthony Phillips for a sack and turnover on downs.

From midfield, the Tribe opened their initial offensive series with a handoff to senior fullback Dakota Price, who picked up 16 yards. From the shotgun, sophomore tailback Lonnie Grant took the first of several pre-snap motion tosses on the night in the new-look Indian rushing attack, gaining 31 more yards down to the three yard line before fellow sophomore Jordan Lasley juiced a defender on a sweep of his own for the score. The Brandon Burton extra point was good, and the Indians pulled within one, 8-7.

The offensive fireworks were just beginning. Aided by facemask and encroachment penalties on Adair, and including a beautifully thrown seam pass from Phillips, which was hauled in one-handed and in stride by wideout Devon Paul, the Colonels scored again just moments later to stretch the lead to 14-7.

Lasley returned the following kickoff to the Adair 35, then picked up 11 yards on a draw play after Adair went off tackle for a gain of seven on first down. Another toss to Grant gained 19, and new quarterback, sophomore Chance Melton, scrambled, avoided the defender, found the edge and tightrope walked the sideline for six more, tying the game at 14 with 4:14 still remaining in the first.

Another snap over the head of the QB destroyed the ensuing Caverna drive, and after a very short punt, Adair took over on the Caverna 19 yard line, where another Melton scramble resulted in a touchdown and a 21-14 lead.

Another defensive stand by Adair ended the quarter, and follow-

In his first game as the starting quarterback, sophomore signal caller Chance Melton scored his second of five touchdowns on the night as he outlegged the Colonels defense for six.

Indian sophomore tailback Jordan Lasley eluded a defender in the early going of Friday night's season opening win. Lasley scored a touchdown rushing, receiving and in the return game as Adair cruised 74-28.

Senior linebacker Dylan Conn brought down a Caverna ball carrier for one of his team-leading eight tackles in Friday night's win.

Indian senior kicker Brandon Burton recovered a fumbled hold on an extra point early in the second quarter and ran it in for the two-point conversion during Adair's Friday night 74-28 win over Caverna in the season opener.

ing the punt, the Indians took over on the 40-yard line. An inside handoff to fullback DaQuan Smith gained six, then Grant picked up 23 yards on a fourth and seven motion sweep. A Melton keeper from the three, aided by a push from Smith, yielded another touch-down for Adair. On the extra point, the snap was bobbled, but senior utility man and kicker Burton scooped the ball, beat a defender to the edge, and converted for two and the 29-14 lead.

With Adair seemingly in control, Caverna used the Tribe’s aggressiveness against them, blasting off back-to-back screen passes and finding the endzone in just two plays. Another quick pass to the flat converted the two-point attempt, and the Colonels found themselves within a touchdown yet again.

The Indians marched down the field before fumbling on the 12, but in their first play of the drive, Caverna fumbled as well, and a Melton pass to Lasley racked up another touchdown and put the lead back to 14, 36-22.

After a Caverna punt of just 13 yards, a pass to Lasley brought the Tribe inside the redzone again, where an inside handoff to Price gained 12 untouched yards for another score with 1:46 to play in the half. Then, on the first play of the next drive, the snap went wide of Phillips again and Price, this time from the linebacker spot, recovered it at the 20.

On Adair’s first play, Grant found himself wide open on a wheel route to the endzone, and Melton lofted the ball to him over the top of the Caverna defense just 12 seconds after the last touchdown, making it 49-22 with 1:24 remaining in the half.

A Caverna return down the sideline brought the ball to the Indian

Lindsey Wilson Men’s Golf Wins Second-Straight President’s Cup Over Campbellsville

Blue Raiders won the match-play event by a final score of 13-2

The Lindsey Wilson men’s golf team dominated singles match-play competition on Sunday against visiting Campbellsville (Ky.) to claim their second-consecutive President’s Cup.

Lindsey Wilson took a 3-1/2 to 1-1/2 lead in the first round on Saturday of the match-play, better ball competition. The Blue Raiders carried the momentum into Sunday as they won nine of the ten head-to-head singles competitions with just one split.

Alex Durham led the way for Lindsey Wilson after a 7 & 6 victory -- up seven holes with just six holes to play in the round -- over Campbellsville’s Dalton Olson. Chris Butler defeated Dylan Bray by a 6 & 4 mark and Clayton Bradshaw picked up a 5 & 4 win over Michael Newton.

Zach Madewell defeated Jared Fannin 4 & 3 while Jake Wall, Nathan Hincks and Ryan Nowe all won their matches by a 3 & 2 mark.

Jordan Hagan won 2 & 1 and Federico Navarro was victorious with a 1-Up win.

Jonathon Grabara and Justin Hazel were the only pairing to finish all square.

The Blue Raiders also won the stroke-play event with a 15-under par 553 (284-269), defeating the Tigers who finished with 16-over par 584 (292-292).

The 553 is the second-lowest two-day total in Blue Raider history and best score in the President’s Cup by Lindsey Wilson. The team fell just three strokes short of beating the 551 (273-278) shot by the men’s team at the Pikeville College Spring Invitational back in 2001-02.

Hincks took home medalist honors after posting a 6-under par 136 (69-67). Durham (-4), Bradshaw (-3), Butler (-3), Hagan (-3) and Nowe (-1) all finished under par for the tournament at the par-71 course.

The Blue Raiders have won five of the last six President’s Cup dating back to the 2009-10 season. During the 2012-13 season, Lindsey Wilson won the stroke-play event, but lost the match-play competition.

The men’s team returns to action tonight when the Blue Raiders head to the Bill Sergeant Invitational in London, Ky.

Lindsey Wilson Women’s Golf falls to Campbellsville in inaugural President’s Cup

The Lindsey Wilson women’s golf team’s comeback attempt fell short today as Campbellsville (Ky.) captured the inaugural President’s Cup matches at The Pines at Lindsey Wilson.

The Blue Raiders scored 2-1/2 points in today’s seven singles matches, succumbing to the visiting Tigers 7-1/2 to 3-1/2 over the two days of match play.

Campbellsville also captured the stroke play event after posting a two-day, team-total 627 (317-310). The Blue Raiders carded a 640 (325-315) over the two days.

Entering today’s seven singles matches, the Blue Raiders trailed the visitors 3-1 in match play.

Amy Brown quickly scored her second point in as many days with a 5 & 4 win over Kellimae Polston in the first match to help the Blue Raiders climb within a single point at 3-2.

Campbellsville’s Grace Gupton secured a point with a 5 & 4 win over Megan Kriz to give the Tigers the 4-2 lead. Ashley Goodin extended the lead to 5-2 with a 3 & 2 win over Kayla Cordeiro.

Flore De Faveri earned the Blue Raiders a point after winning three of four holes early in the back nine en route to a 2 & 1 win over Anna-Marie Hyatt. The win closed the gap to 5-3.

That would be as close as the Blue Raiders would get.

Lindsey Wilson’s Shayna Cockrill and CU’s Mikayla Smith halved their match as Smith captured the final hole of the match. Cockrill had won the previous two holes to build a 1-Up lead entering the final hole.

Campbellsville closed out the Blue Raiders by winning the final two matches by identical 1-Up scores for the 7-1/2 - 3-1/2 win.

Cockrill finished as the top Blue Raider golfer in the stroke-play event with a two-day total of 159 (80-79). The Scottsville, Ky., native finished fourth in her first collegiate tournament.

Cordeiro finished one stroke behind Cockrill in fifth with a 160 (80-80).

Hyatt won the individual title with a 155 (79-76).

Lindsey Wilson returns to action on tonight, as the Blue Raiders travel to the Bill Sergeant Invitational at Crooked Creek Golf Club in London, Ky.

No. 3 Men’s Soccer Wins 2-0 Over Bethel (Tenn.)

Blue Raiders score two goals late in first half to seal win

The No. 3-ranked Lindsey Wilson men’s soccer team pulled out a 2-0 victory over No. 22 Bethel (Tenn.) on Monday in the final game of the McDonald’s Classic at Walter S. Reuling Stadium

Sophomore Aleksi Pakkasalo scored the first goal for the Blue Raiders off a rebound from Wildcats’ goalkeeper Mark Wier in the 79th minute. Three minutes later freshman Nedin Zukanovic headed in the second goal off a cross from Elijah Ukpong.

Lindsey Wilson (2-0) had 15 total shots and Bethel (1-1) had four. Pakkasalo and junior Keletso Mosime each had four shots, two of which were on goal. Errol Reid, Tevin Skyers, Kegbba Demba and Austin Toman each had a shot for the Wildcats.

The Blue Raiders had some missed opportunities in the first half as three shots sailed high over the crossbar. Weir had four total saves for the Wildcats, while Blue Raiders goalkeeper Dalyan Hawes had one.

Lindsey Wilson returns to action Saturday, Sept. 6 at home against Bryan (Tenn.). Kickoff is scheduled for 7 p.m. CT.

20, and a quick pass out wide saw the receiver reverse field and score on the very first play once again, 49-28 with just over a minute remaining.

Adair would cap off the insane ending to the half, as first Melton scampered from the Adair 31 to down inside the 20, then Grant put the exclamation point on the opening half with another score on an option pitch, bringing the score to 55-28 with 31 seconds in the half.

The offensive duel would slow down in the second half, as Caverna found themselves unable to muster a scoring drive in the final two quarters. Adair, on the other hand, scored immediately, as Lasley returned the opening kickoff of the second half 90 yards for another score. The kick was no good, and the lead was a commanding 61-28.

On Caverna’s first possession, the Colonels looked to put together a drive to match Adair’s quick strike, but, despite a fourth down conversion, were unable to put points on the board as Burton settled under a long pass attempt and returned the interception all the way back to the Caverna 38.

A sweep to Grant picked up seven, then Burton gained four before breaking his next run for a 27 yard score after setting up his blockers and splitting two defenders. Burton’s kick was good, and the score grew to 68-28.

With a running clock, junior Daniel Grant ended the next Caverna drive with a sack on fourth and long. Damon Honaker picked up 12 yards on Adair’s first play of the next drive, and the third quarter ended with the score the same.

The Adair Co. Little League Board of Directors will be holding elections of the 2015 Board of Directors on September 4th at 6:00PM at Joe Johnson Little League Park.

Nominations for board positions need to be sent to Scott Bennett 270-250-4112 or scottbenn@gmail.com. Please leave a message if no answer. Nominations need to be in by September 3rd at 8:30 PM.

DaQuan Smith opened the fourth with a 27 yard gain up the middle, and two plays later, Grant punched in his third score, the final one of the night, to stretch the final margin to 74-28.

“Schematically, the offense went well. New formations, communication, those things looked okay, but we still made a lot of mistakes,” Gay says, citing decision making and blocking concerns. “Defensively, we have work to do understanding pursuit angles, and working on fundamental stuff like tackling.”

The Indian rushing attack was led by Lonnie Grant, as the sophomore racked up 115 yards and two touchdowns on just nine carries. QB Chance Melton also topped 100 yards, gaining 106 and three scores on just six carries. Brandon Burton added six carries for 65 yards and a touchdown, Dakota Price had two carries for 43 yards and a score, DaQuan Smith added four carries for 36 yards, Jordan Lasley had three carries for 14 yards and a TD, Damon Honaker tallied three carries for 10 yards, and Tate Walkup had one carry for seven yards.

Through the air, Melton was three-for-four on the night, with 44 yards and two TDs. Lasley led the Indians in receiving with two catches for 23 yards and a TD, while Grant had one catch—a 21 yard TD. Lasley also added a return for TD.

On defense, senior Dylan Conn and junior Josh Brown led the Tribe in tackles with eight apiece. Brown, along with Jeremy Luttrell, registered two sacks, with Price, Travis Perdue and Daniel Grant adding a sack as well. Brandon Burton had an interception, and Adam Harris, Landon Herren and Dakota Price all recovered fumbles for Adair.

The exciting offensive performance, coupled with a lively stadium atmosphere and enthusiasm throughout the community, signals a noticeable change in the program as a whole.

“I think it’s an overall process of what we’re doing with football in Adair County,” Gay explains. “Our youth league football is in a good place, last year’s middle school class had the most wins in school history and are 3-0 this season, and Lindsey Wilson College just won the Route 55 trophy last Saturday. We’re starting to see the growth of football here.”

“It’s still early in the process,” he adds. “But it’s growing, and that’s what it’s all about, and I think we’re doing just that.”

No. 18 LWC Football tops Campbellsville 44-40 in Battle of Highway 55

Blue Raiders able to stifle late comeback attempt by the Tigers

The 18th-ranked Lindsey Wilson football team withstood a fierce second-half rally by host Campbellsville (Ky.) to secure a 44-40 victory over the Tigers on Thursday evening at Ron Finley Stadium.

The win gave the Blue Raiders bragging rights in the Battle of Highway 55 rivalry game between the two schools. It marks the second year in a row Lindsey Wilson has claimed the trophy and the program's first-ever victory at Campbellsville.

Campbellsville had a chance to score before the half, but the Blue Raider defense held on a 4th and 1 from their own five-yard line to keep the Tigers off the scoreboard and preserve the two-touchdown lead.

In the second half, the Blue Raiders (1-0) saw the Tigers (0-1) claw their way back into the contest after a 97-yard touchdown pass and a 32-yard fumble recovery for a touchdown cut the lead to 23-22. Cresap was forced to exit the game and Dylan Beasley entered the game for the first time in his collegiate career.

Beasley calmly led the Blue Raiders down the field before tossing a 13-yard touchdown pass to Tavis Elzy to bring the lead to eight at 30-22.

The Tigers answered right back with a touchdown toss of their own, but failed to convert a two-point attempt leaving the Blue Raiders with a slim 30-28 lead with 2:55 to play in the third quarter.

Beasley once again marched the offense down the field before throwing another touchdown to Elzy for the 37-28 lead with 12:46 to go in the fourth.

After the ensuing kickoff, the Lindsey Wilson defense stripped the Tiger offense and Jeremy Bolden picked up the ball and took it in for a 10-yard defensive score.

Campbellsville scored with 5:17 remaining to bring the score to 44-34 after another failed two-point conversion.

The Tigers would score again with 1:44 to play to bring it to 44-40, but the onside kick attempt went directly to Emilio Gonzalez who safely covered the ball. The Blue Raiders were then able to run out the clock and secure the 44-40 victory.

By the final whistle, Campbellsville held a 31-21 edge in second-half points over visiting Lindsey Wilson. The Blue Raiders were victorious despite being outgained by almost 150 passing yards as Campbellsville had 431 yards through the air compared to 282 yards for Lindsey Wilson.

Blue Raider starting quarterback Cresap had 215 passing yards on 16-of-21 attempts with three touchdowns before exiting the game. Barber caught five passes for 112 yards and a touchdown, and Elzy finished with seven receptions for 80 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

On the defensive side, Andrew Wahl set a single-season program record for most sacks in a game with four. The Blue Raider defense totaled six sacks in all, the most in a single-game in program history. Eric Shaw led the team with nine tackles while Trey Wright had five tackles an interception.

For the Tigers, Jacob Russell threw for a game-high 414 yards and five touchdowns despite being dropped behind the line of scrimmage six times. Trevon Chatman hauled in game-high 12 receptions for 154 yards and three scores, and Demytreus Gipson had three catches for 145 yards and two touchdowns, including the 97-yard score in the third quarter.

Campbellsville's Daniel DeLeon led all players with 13 tackles total, and Stephon Tanga had nine tackles, including 1.5 for a loss.

Lindsey Wilson returns to action in its home opener on Saturday, Sept. 6, when Reinhardt (Ga.) University pays Blue Raider Stadium a visit. Kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m. CT.

Surrounded by members of the Blue Raider football team, Lindsey Wilson College President William T. Luckey Jr. raises the "Battle of Highway 55" trophy after LWC's 44-40 win over Campbellsville (Ky.) University Thursday night at Finley Stadium. At right is LWC football coach Chris Oliver. LWC's next game is against Reinhardt (Ga.) University at 1:30 p.m. CT Saturday, Sept. 6, at Blue Raider Stadium, 828 Russell Road.

The Blue Raiders received the opening kickoff and moved the ball seamlessly down the field before a fumble at the 10-yard line rolled into the end zone was recovered by the Tigers for a touchback.

Following the fumble, Campbellsville put together an eight play, 80-yard drive to score the first points of the game and take a 6-0 lead after a missed extra point attempt.

After a Blue Raider miscue gave Campbellsville the ball deep in Lindsey Wilson territory, the Blue Raider defense held strong and kept the Tigers to a field goal for a 9-0 lead at the 6:08 mark in the first quarter.

Lindsey Wilson settled in and senior quarterback Branden Cresap marched the Blue Raiders down the field on the next three possessions, all ending with a touchdown toss. Chaz Barnes, Cortez Barber and Hunter Lovell all with the scoring grabs.

A blocked punt attempt by the Tigers led to a safety and extended the Blue Raider lead to 23-9 with 9:13 to play in the

This week's United Citizen's Bank Player of the Week goes to Indians running back Jordan Lasley. The sophomore playmaker scored three ways, tallying three carries for 14 yards and a touchdown, two receptions for 23 yards and a touchdown, and a 90-yard kick return for a score in Adair's 74-28 blowout over Caverna Friday night. Lasley is pictured here with UCB Branch Manager Mike Curry.
